Expertise

Mirjam specializes in all matters relating to private clients. She regularly advises and represents high net worth individuals (HNWIs), families, and family offices in national and cross-border matters relating to inheritance law, private wealth and estate planning (including marriage and inheritance contracts, wills, administration of executor mandates, transfer of assets to the next generation) as well as the execution of the division of estates.

Due to her many years of practice and expertise in the areas of M&A, corporate, commercial, and contract law, her practice includes advising on and implementing corporate and business succession, family and corporate governance, and the reorganization of private companies and family-owned businesses.

Mirjam is highly knowledgeable in Swiss foundation law and the law governing associations. She regularly advises and represents foundations and members of the board of foundations on all aspects of foundation law, in particular on issues related to the establishment and setting up of a foundation as well as to governance and best practices, reorganizations, liquidations, liability issues and regulatory requirements. She also chairs a Swiss charitable foundation.

Mirjam represents her clients in related proceedings before courts, supervisory and administrative authorities. In pre-litigation strategies, she also considers alternative dispute resolution options.

Her broad legal knowledge and extensive practical experience enable her to provide a diverse array of advice to HNWIs and families in all aspects of their private and business activities.
